

A CHINESE FUNERAL.—The 300 Chinese men in the employ of Capt. Harney, at Belleville, New Jersey, have just buried one of their number, Mr. Zin Sing, late of Canton. Zin Sing was only twenty years of age. He was beloved by his countrymen, and great efforts were made to make his obsequies imposing. The body was dressed in Sunday attire, consisting of a new Nanking suit, and placed in an elegant walnut coffin, which was immediately sealed. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the coffin was placed on a wagon (a hearse being objected) and a large procession followed. First came 150 Chinamen, dressed in their national costume, walking silently two by two; after them followed the women employed in the laundry, then Capt. Harney, his family and the reporters. The hearse, the mourners formed a circle around the coffin, for, according to the Chinese rites, two cavities, a larger and a smaller one, had been dug. Four Chinamen then gently removed the coffin and placed it between the two graves. Mr. S. P. Daily, a Methodist clergyman, then offered a prayer, which was intelligible, however, to but a small portion of those present. The coffin was then lowered in the larger grave and immediately covered up with earth. In the smaller grave, a hole about two feet in diameter and as many deep, was placed a tea-pot, a rice-pot, chop-sticks and clothing of the deceased. On top of all this was placed a large earthen vessel containing a cooked chicken, rice and salted fish. The next ceremony was the placing of a basket containing the clothes of the deceased dead worn on the day of his death on the grave, and fire was applied to it until it was entirely consumed. A number of fire-crackers were then exploded over the grave, after which each mourner in turn approached the resting place of his comrade, and, interlacing his fingers, placed his hands on the forehead with the palms turned outward, and threw them forward twice, accompanying the movement each time with a low bow. This ended the ceremony, and every mourner was presented with a small bouquet of flowers.

THE DAILY PHOENIX

"Let our just Censure Attend the True Event."

BY J. A. SELBY. COLUMBIA, S. C., FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 24, 1871. VOL. VII.—NO. 213

SPECIAL NOTICES.
THE TRUE GROUNDS OF CONFIDENCE.—Whence comes that firm reliance, that absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States? This confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still extending. It is not the result of credulity; it has not been engendered by any human device, but it is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts, that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic as a preventive, escape the malarial fevers, and their immediate neighbors, who neglect that precaution, are prostrated by the disease, it is not possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson. It is in the daily life of the people that the true grounds of confidence are to be found. It is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervousness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulity itself withhold its assent? Evidences of the salutary effects of the Bitters are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness to its extraordinary medicinal qualities, are ready to attest its efficacy. The multitudes who recommend it in a neighborly way to their friends and acquaintances, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that is in them. They have all either felt or witnessed its beneficial operations.
Nov 17

COLUMBIA, S. C., November 17, 1871.
In consequence of the blow inflicted upon the educational and industrial interests of this State by President Grant's military proceedings in the up-country, the undersigned have abandoned their proposed association in the conduct of the King's Mountain Military School, at Yorkville—deeming it unwise, under present circumstances, to enter upon a special expansion of the school. The present Principal and Proprietor will carry on the school as heretofore. ASBURY COWARD,
JOHN F. THOMAS.

The undersigned, in relinquishing his connection with the above enterprise, desires most cordially to commend the K. M. S. P. to the support and confidence of its friends. As a tried and gallant soldier, a Christian gentleman, a thorough disciplinarian, and an excellent teacher, Col. Coward is well known to the State. Singly he is fully equal to the demands that may be made upon his school; and the undersigned hopes that all those who proposed to attend the school, will have no hesitation in entrusting their boys to his charge, who will not hesitate to send them home to enjoy the benefit of Col. Coward's control of their conduct and studies.
JOHN F. THOMAS.

HAPPY RELIEF FOR YOUNG MEN from the effects of Errors and Abuses in early life. Manhood restored. Nervous debility cured. Impediments to marriage removed. New method of treatment. New and remarkable Cures and Cures in all cases. Address, HOWARD A. RICH, No. 2 South Ninth street, Philadelphia, Pa.

WHAT.
If it was only in the matter of GROCERIES, this question could never be asked, because the people of Columbia and up-country already know the fact and set upon it.
ARE.
We offer the best goods to be found in any known market, and if better than the best could possibly be had, we should have them.
YOU.
Our perishable goods are fresh, daily. We can scarcely supply the demand, dull as times are. In this case we include Hams, Breakfast Sausages, Tongues, &c.

TO.
In Liquors, I am assured you have the inside track. We trust all who give us a call will acknowledge the "Corn."
DO.
In Fancy Groceries and Canned Goods, our assortment is unequalled; every novelty being added to stock promptly, and standard goods always on hand.
IT?
So, dear reader, whenever your stock of Groceries runs short; whenever a delicacy is required for the sick room; whenever the appetite of the plouge falls; in short, whenever you want anything else but Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, or Queen's Delight, call; and we can tell you, also, where they can be got for nothing.
